Letter from our Associational Missions Strategist, Jeff Hoffman

I am faithfully praying for each church and each pastor of our associations by name. The greatest gift I can give to you is time on my knees. I am aware of the difficulty of serving in the day in which we now live. There is great pressure on the pastor, staff, and church. I know something of the pressure to remain prepared and passionate in the pulpit, witness to the lost, counsel the depressed and lonely, meet the financial demands of the budget, maintain the endless daily administrative tasks that are expected, make visits of outreach/membership/nursing home/ hospital/ and emergency calls, preach funerals & weddings, attend deacons/personnel/finance/nominating/committee on committee/staff meetings, plan/coordinate/execute the regular ministry events for all age groups including but not limited to V.B.S./Youth & Children trips/Sr. Adult lunches/fellowships/overnight trips/men's mtgs/women's ministry outings, prayer mtgs, administer and minister to benevolent needs, all while overseeing the building & grounds making sure the air conditioning is working and set at the appropriate temperature, the grass is cut and toilets are clean and have sufficient toilet paper....and this is on a good week, not counting the disgruntled, mad, and grouchy folk who can never be satisfied. Believe me when I say, you must have a calling to continue to serve.

Through the power of the Holy Spirit, He will give you the strength and courage to keep on serving. Prayer is the key to not only surviving but to serving with the right spirit. Also, prayer gives wisdom to the direction of His will and way. James 1:5 states, "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.

My prayer is God will provide you with the strength and courage to serve, a humble spirit as you serve, and wisdom to know how He would have you serve. Know I am available to serve you in whatever way I can.

In His love,

Bro. Jeff
